

Take Your Reading to New Heights this Summer

How to Be a Summer Reader

Governor Locke has challenged all young people across Washington State to read at least 15 hours this summer. If you read just 20 minutes a day (or even more!) you can get there.

How You Can Meet the Challenge

Read at least fifteen hours between the time school ends in June and Labor Day. Report back to the Governor by Sept. 1 about the books, stories, or articles you have read.

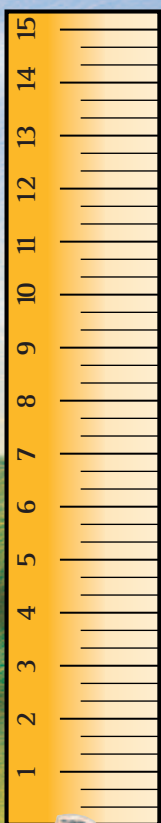

Then you become a Summer Reader! You will receive a certificate from the Governor and be eligible to win fun prizes!

For more information, and to learn how to report, go to www.governor.wa.gov/summerreadingchallenge

Or write us at:
Governor's Summer
Reading Challenge
P.O. Box 40002
Olympia, WA 98504

Visit Your Local Library!

Governor's Summer Reading Challenge

Record your reading hours –
each mark equals 20 minutes, leading to 15 hours.